

Glass processing

The processing of regular sheet glass or float glass is rapidly gaining popularity. Modern technology offers a variety of ways of processing glass: cutting, grinding and polishing of edges, drilling, milling, frosting, toughening, bending, and producing various cutouts.

